DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-37, drawn to an absorbent garment, classified in class 604, subclass 400.
- II. Claims 38-41, drawn to a package comprising a garment and a plurality of absorbent assemblies, classified in class 206, subclass 494.

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the package does not require a garment shell, absorbent composite, support waistband, or posterior strap connecting the waistband and absorbent composite. The subcombination has separate utility such as an absorbent article.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

In the event applicant elects to pursue the prosecution of the claims of Group I, the following election of species requirement applies:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: (1) an absorbent garment with a support waistband and shell waistband that are coterminous having at least one posterior strap, (2) an absorbent garment wherein the width of the at least one posterior strap increases from the composite to the back waist region, (3) a garment shell with at least one posterior strap further comprising at least one anterior support strap, (4) an absorbent garment wherein a shell waistband is positioned higher on a wearer's waist than a support waistband, (5) an absorbent garment wherein the elasticized support waistband is releasably connected to the bodyside surface of the garment shell, (6) an absorbent garment wherein the elasticized support waistband is refastenably connected to the bodyside surface of the garment shell, (7) an absorbent garment with two posterior straps connecting the absorbent composite to the waistband, (8) an absorbent garment wherein the two posterior straps are releasably connected to the garment shell, (9) an absorbent garment wherein the two posterior straps include a frangible line of weakness, (10) an absorbent garment with two posterior straps that diverge from one another. The species are independent or distinct because they are not obvious variants of one another and are not useable together.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
